

Quilos and the Windmill present The Prospector
'equipped with all kinds of gadgets, many of them useless, a prospector comes west'

We, Quilos and the Windmill, recently had our first UK solo show 'the prospector' (at 44AD in Bath UK) and thought you might enjoy seeing some of our images.

In order to continue to develop and share our ideas with new audiences we are currently seeking new exhibition spaces as well as gallery representation. So, if you would like to have a conversation with us we would be very happy to meet you.

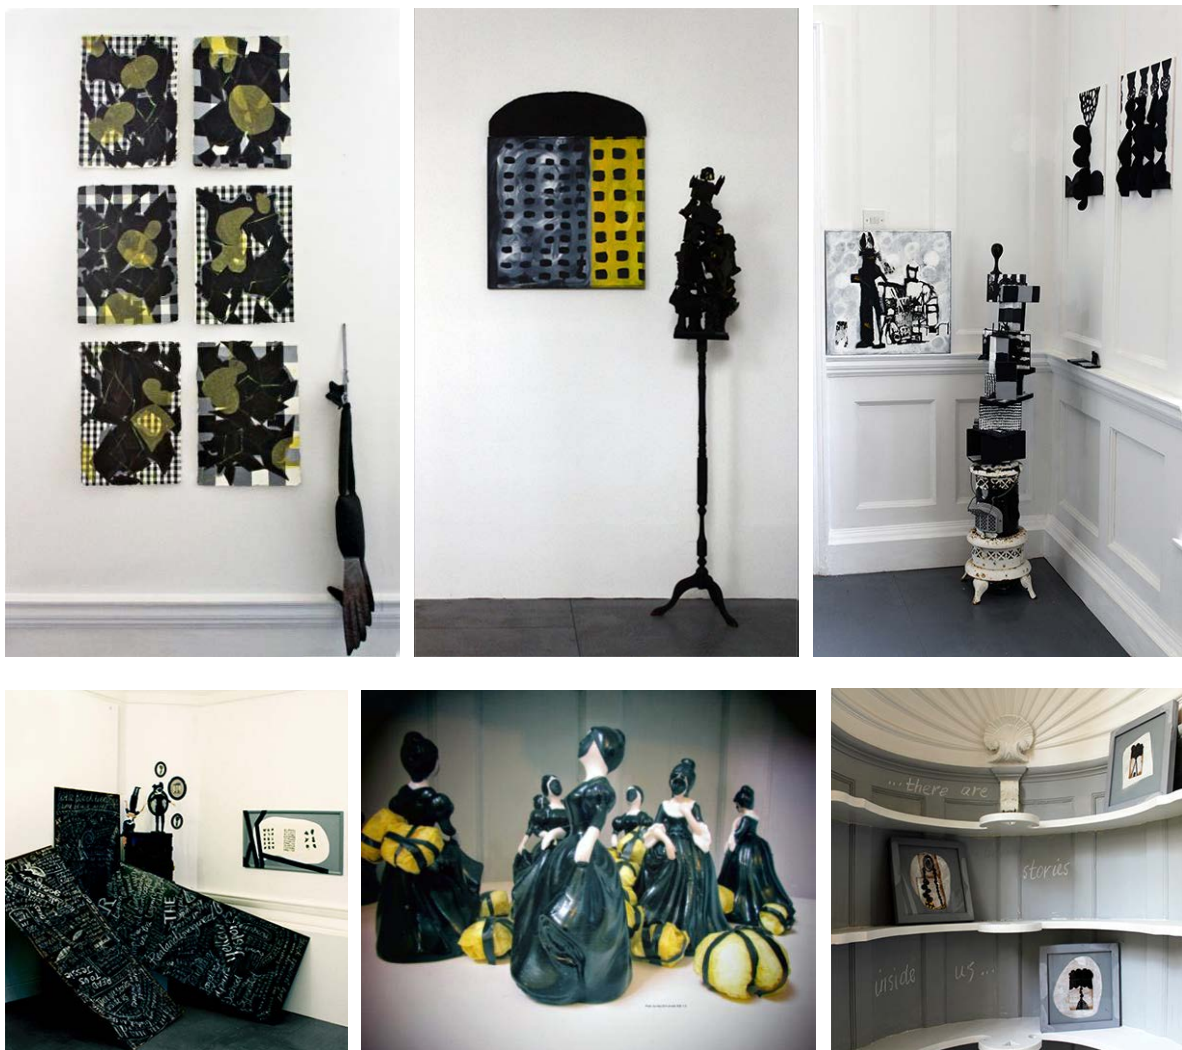

Please contact us via the email link on our website where you will find more images and information about us and our activities

A little background information

*Established in 2011, our assumed name Quilos and the Windmill implies a metaphorical project space where we (Linda Khatir and Michele Whiting) collaborate to develop new intellectual and creative challenges.*

Inhabiting 'realandimagined' spaces in pursuit of a boundless and experimental art practice, we engage with the disciplines of painting, drawing, sculpture, photography, performance, video, sound and text, and as each story or work develops it unravels divisions between object and image, action and thought - and in so doing reveals new and invented relationships between large and small histories, fictions and truths.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. We look forward to hearing from you.
